Quest International Announces Its Expansion of Corporate Headquarters

Poised for Growth, Quest International Expands Its Infrastructure to Meet Customer Demands

IRVINE, Calif., January 30, 2018 – Quest International, Inc., a global depot repairs, field services and supply chain logistics service provider for device manufacturers, today announced the expansion of its corporate headquarters in Irvine, California. In responding to the growing demands of its customers, Quest more than doubled its existing footprint. The new headquarters has a state of the art repair center, training space and an environment controlled warehouse, enabling Quest to advance its mission of providing the highest quality service and solutions to its clients. In addition, Quest is hiring at an aggressive rate to further develop its infrastructure while investing in its community. Quest is well positioned to support its dynamic growth for the next several years.

For over 35 years, Quest's OEM Services partners with the device manufacturers to support depot repairs as well as field services to enhance their customer experience. With continual demand from our medical device clients, the new facility also added a clean room along with a decontamination room to service more intricate medical devices. Additionally, we've build a robust call center capability to service our customer's frontline needs.

"Our vision is to provide transparent, scalable and cost effective services to our clients with best in class partnership," Shawn Arshadi, President & CEO states, "There is a tremendous demand from our customers to provide post-manufacturing repair and supply-chain logistics services globally. I'm pleased with our expansion, we are committed to serve our customers effectively. With the addition of comprehensive service suites to each of our business units, we are poised to accommodate that growth."
